HLT – THE HAIR

Each hair grows from a narrow tube in the skin called hair follicle. Each follicle has a tiny oil gland near its base. The gland produces oil that lubricates the hair and softens the skin around it.

Functions of the Hair

(a) It protects the head
(b) It keeps the head warm in cold weather
(c) It improves personal appearance and adds beauty to a person